GOING TO THE RANCH

Alexia Gonzalez

During the summertime, my family and I go to our family ranch. Usually, we all take our four-wheelers and dirt bikes and spend the day riding while the adults are inside “chismeando”. Sometimes, the adults make carne asada, tacos, hamburgers, and hot dogs. Of course, we need some horchata and lemonade to go with it. My cousins and I usually ride all day. Sometimes we go to the lake or go swim in the river. When we get hungry, we go inside the house and eat. In the nighttime, we usually make a bonfire, and sometimes we make smores. Usually, everybody goes to their trailers at around 10 pm, but sometimes if the chisme is good, they stay until like 12 or 1 enjoying their cup of coffee.

GOING FOR A WALK

Gabe Jaquez

Going for a walk sounds like such a simple and uneventful thing to do but you can discover so many new things along the way. You can find new locations in your area that you never even knew existed, you can meet new people, you can see your surroundings from a better view, you can even just go on a short walk to clear your mind or get away from a stressful moment in your life. So maybe next time you're on a walk think about how you can open new doors in your life and find many opportunities by going for that simple walk.

MY PICK

Piper Grissom

When it comes to summer activities, I don't do much, except last year when my summer was pretty full. But, if I had to pick a favorite activity to do in the summer, I would probably choose to see people, whether that be for a trip or they come to me. I wouldn't want to see friends as much as I would rather see my cousins. With them, it is always something different. Now we may get bored, but we eventually find something to do, whether it is smart and useful or straight-up stupid. Taking trips to see people can be super fun, all depending on who you're with. One time, I drove with my grandparents to my cousin's house and it was probably one of the more boring car rides I have participated in. Whoever you are in the car with, you can create memories that are unforgettable. Even if you hate car rides, the destination and who you are with make it all worth it in the end. When I went to Utah, it was a long drive and I don't like car trips but, in the end, the eight hours were all worth it. One of the best feelings that summer brings is the late nights while you play around up and down the streets with your friends barefoot. One of the better feelings is when the warm nighttime breeze comes and blows through your hair and against your skin while the trees shuffle. Doing this all with the ones you appreciate time with the most is what makes summer so worth it. When you know summer is coming around, what do you look forward to the most?

TUBING

Vivian Carrell

One of my favorite summer activities is tubing. My family doesn't like to drive the boat gently, though. They like to pick up speed going straight, make a turn, and then whip it to the other side. Behind a boat, that's rough on your arms. One time, it was my 12th birthday and we were on the Carlsbad River in New Mexico. My Aunt Jackie let me ride easy for a while as she pulled me behind the Bayliner. After a while, she began to try to throw me off. I refused to let go. Then she went pedal to the metal and whipped it 180 degrees. I couldn't hold on. So, after my hands slipped, I skipped like 5 times over the surface before I was submerged. Unfortunately, I held on for too long. Turns out, I tore the cover off of the tube. I felt bad about it, but that was one of my best experiences riding a tube over the water.

SUMMER 2021

Mia Esquer-Montoya

Everyone seems to be excited about this summer. That just means school is out, staying up all night, having fun with your friends and so much more. Some people enjoy just being inside and being to themselves, while others rather enjoy being with other people and out all the time. Then we got the people who like to work and get some money. You see, living in the valley, there is not much to do around here; however, we always find something random and “fun” to do. If it’s just cruising around, chillin’ with friends, or even taking a drive to Walmart. More and more people are getting their licenses this year, which is pretty exciting because then you’re able to do more.

Summer 2021 will be much better than summer 2020.

We all know that, because half of us were quarantined and staying home, scared. Now we know how to be safe and we are gonna be able to do so much more this summer. I feel like more people will be out now that covid has already been around for about a year. I guess we’ll see how it goes. Let’s have a good summer this year and let’s have fun.

FUN IN THE SUN

Josiah DeHerrera

Summertime is the best time to have fun, go to the lake, or go swimming. Some things I do in the summer are simple. Some of the things I like to do are ride my four-wheeler and go fishing. Drinking sweet tea in the sun because sweet tea is the best for when it's hot. A slush is even better when you just get done riding your four-wheeler. What's your favorite thing to do when it's a nice day?

HOW MY SUMMER IS PROBABLY GOING TO GO

Brian Ontiveros

My summer isn't that exciting because literally, all I'm probably going to do is just be in the gym. Even though there are many different things like going to the lake or going to a city, I would rather be playing in the gym. I, my cousin, and my friend are probably going to be chilling or we are going to be hooping. The only reason why I am going to be in the gym all summer is that I want to be unguardable. We will possibly be doing summer camps and summer tournaments also.

VACATIONS IN MEXICO

Angaela Rodriguez

I like to go on vacation in Mexico. I like to go for a walk, to go out on horseback to the ranches, chatting with friends and family until late. It is something very nice, I think, that I am not the only person who likes to go to Mexico. Going out for a walk and being late, there are many things to do also in the streets. They get together to play soccer or hide and seek and the best of all are the parties they do in the towns or rodeos. It is one of the reasons why I like to go to Mexico.

MY FAVORITE SUMMERTIME ACTIVITIES

Ivan Molina

IT'S ALMOST SUMMER! Everyone around the world is as excited as I am. It's been a very long and stressful year for all of us and we're all ready to just go out and have fun. Many of the things I enjoy take place at the lake. One of the things me and my friends have always done is go to a swing down the river and jump across with the swing. There's also fishing and swimming and people could ride their ATVs. I also enjoy hanging out with friends late at night just walking around or cruising while listening to music. My all-time favorite thing about summer is the opportunities to work. There will always be work throughout the summer, like pulling weeds or cutting wood for the winter, washing cars, etc. Summer is closer than we thought it would be so get ready to enjoy your summer and have fun!
